As of Tuesday 21-Nov-06 Steve G0KYA reports that this radio is once again available at branches of Superdrg in the Christmas 2006 Sale, priced £2.99.

It is a 10-band radio with digital display and alarm clock, Ultratek model DM906. This is the manufacturer's page
. But, if you click that link, you'll get an error. The only way to get to the actual page is: First visit the home page:
http://www.aitkenson.com.hk
then copy and paste http://www.aitkenson.com.hk/english/displayproduct.php?proid=503 into the address box.

Steve says, it is slightly bigger and has even better sound quality. He also wants to know who is going to be first to convert one into an FT-2000 with just one resistor and some sticky-back plastic?
