Message programming

The Hell section of the message "73 DE GOUPL" was created in a spreadsheet and printed. Hand-written

A screenshot of a spreadsheet showing the Hell section of the message "73 DE GOUPL". The spreadsheet has columns for each character and rows for each letter of the alphabet (A-M). The characters are represented by a grid of dots and dashes, which is the Hell code for each letter.

Hellschreiber font

The Hellschreiber section Full size image. uses the original Hellschreiber font as far as I have been able
